Key West, Fla., Oct. 12.—With the city in the hands of military authorities who were called out by the mayor for assistance, all efforts are being concentrated today on ascertaining the damage wrought by the hurricane which swept over the Gulf yesterday. It is estimated the damage to property in the city and harbor will reach two million dollars. In the city whole blocks of frame structures were razed and brick houses also fell before the gale, while the great tobacco factories and warehouses suffered considerable damage. The jail is filled with vandals captured by the militia and police during the night. Hundreds of homeless people are being cared for in the churches and schools and other structures which escaped the fury of the storm. Rations are being distributed by the city authorities. ## JOSIAH WRIGHT IN NEW YORK STATE

Visit to Onondaga County Orphan Asylum Which Aunt Helped to Found Was Much Enjoyed.

Josiah T. Wright, recently returned from a visit to his boyhood home in Syracuse, New York. While there he visited the Onondaga county orphan asylum in which he was personally interested because his aunt, Mary Bliss, was one of the founders and he assisted in the work. The "Syracuse Post-Standard" gives him the following complimentary notice:

"The Onondaga county orphan asylum received a visit during the week from a man who assisted in the establishment of that institution in 1845 and who is, so far as known, the only survivor of the many present at that event. Josiah T. Wright, a nephew of Mary Bliss, whose name heads the list of founders of the institution, is described on a tablet at the asylum, as visiting friends in Auburn and came to Syracuse early in the week for the purpose of making a call at the asylum. Mr. Wright is now a resident of Janesville, Wis. At the time the asylum was founded he was a boy of 14 and resided with his aunt, Miss Bliss, in her work. She had been promised donations of all sorts of furniture and Mr. Wright drove the wagon that was used to collect them and delivered them at the building that was first used for the asylum, a house on the west side of Sullivan street, between Jefferson and Onondaga streets.

"Previous to this time orphan children had been kept at the poorhouse at Onondaga Hill and after the house in Sullivan street was furnished Mr. Wright drove to the poorhouse and brought the children to their new home. His last previous visit to the asylum was at the time of the fiftieth anniversary in 1895, at which time he made an address. Mr. Wright, as may be imagined, takes a keen interest in the institution and on his visit here last week went all over the building, talking with the children and telling them of what he did sixty-four years ago."

WHOLESALE RAID ON KELLER CHICKENS

Thieves Got Away from Russell Farm with Over $100 Worth of Valuable Poultry Last Tuesday Evening.

Between seventy-five and one hundred chickens—Rhode Island Reds, Plymouth Rocks, and some thirty real game-cocks worth from $5 to $10 each—were stolen from the Russell farm near the county asylum last Tuesday and a reward of $50 has been offered for the arrest and conviction of the thieves. John Keller lives on the farm but at the time the theft occurred he and his family were on their way home from a funeral at Browntown and a Mrs. Kettle and a small boy were the only persons left to guard the homestead. The boy rubbed a window and fired a small rifle twice, causing the thieves to break through the lath side of the coop in their haste to get away. The freight houses have been carefully watched but thus far no chickens answering the description have been shipped from this or neighboring points.

OBITUARY.

George Hatherell

George Hatherell, for many years a resident of this city, died this morning at four o'clock at his home, 151 North Pearl street, of old age. He had been ill for about a year. The deceased was born in England, January 12, 1830, being nearly eighty years old at the time of his death. In 1849 he came to America, settling at Massfield. He assisted in building the Methodist church there and in 1867 sold his farm and came to Janesville, where he had since made his home. He was married to Miss Anna French in August, 1854. She passed away March 21, 1899.

Mr. Hatherell is survived by two daughters, Miss Rosalia Hatherell of Grand Forks, North Dakota; Mrs. Ida Fehn of Janesville; Albert Hatherell of Los Angeles, Cal.; and five grandchildren. He was a kind father and a highly respected citizen. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

James Rook.

Funeral services for James Rook were held this afternoon at two-thirty from Oak Hill chapel, Rev. T. D. Williams, officiating. The funeral was well attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. James Ryan, John Grant, Martin Housman, and J. Oakley were the pallbearers. Mr. Rook's sister, from out of town, was unable to be present at the services today and the body will be allowed to remain in the chapel until her arrival tomorrow. It will then be interred.

An Empress and Her Tea.

The late empress dowager of China, was a great epicure in regard to her tea. To add to the flavor she used a curious flour mixture, equal parts of dried jasmine and honeysuckle. The honey in the flowers sweetened the tea ever so slightly and the bloom gave it a pungent taste, which the empress liked. The first leaves of the great plantations in China are always reserved for the imperial use.

His "Kitchen Setter."

Little Oscar aged five, had a dog which was almost always to be found behind the stove in the kitchen. One day he visited at a house where there were two fine dogs. The master of the house told him that they were Irish setters. The little fellow, who was very fond of his pet, answered quickly: "Mine is a kitchen setter."

A Lesson from Nature.

I saw a delicate flower had grown up two feet high, between the horses' path and the wheel track. An inch more to right or left had sealed its fate, or an inch higher; and yet it lived to flourish as much as if it had a thousand acres of untrodden space around it, and never knew the danger it incurred. It did not borrow trouble, nor invite an evil fate by apprehending it.—Henry D. Thoreau (1817-1862).

Young America.

James, aged six, after having had his first ride on a scenic railway, described his feelings thus: "It made me feel just like I was all gone but my soul, and that was almost tickled to death."—The Delineator.

ST. RY MAY HAVE TO ACT IN HURRY

Will Be in a Tight Fix if Supreme Court Upholds Decision Which Judge Grimm Rendered Yesterday.

An appeal from Judge Grimm's decision overruling the demurrer to the complaint in the case of the City of Janesville vs. the Janesville Water Co., an action brought to recover some $1,740 for paving between the tracks on Main and Milwaukee streets which the defendant company refused to pay for, will be taken to the supreme court, and the decision of the high tribunal will have a direct bearing on the proceeding that has been brought to force the company to remodel its car system or forfeit the franchise.

"It appears from the complaint," says Judge Grimm in the course of his findings, "that in 1895, about ten years after the granting of the franchise, the council passed an ordinance relieving the defendant entirely from the duty of grading, paving, or macadamizing between its tracks or of raising or lowering said tracks, in case of a change of grade, so as to conform with the general surface of the street, and providing that in case of cutting, filling, or grading under the tracks becoming necessary in order to raise or lower the tracks, the expense thereof should be paid in the same manner that it is done and paid for on other portions of said street."

The complaint alleges that at the time of the adoption of this amendment a dispute had arisen between the city and the company, as to the interpretation of said franchise and a dispute as to paving and macadamizing; that the defendant proposed to settle said dispute by amending said franchise and the defendant paying to said city the sum of $450 due for alleged paving between the tracks of the said defendant; that said proposition was accepted and said sum paid by the defendant to the plaintiff and in pursuance of said settlements the ordinance was passed.

In July, 1900, the common council attempted to undo the work of its predecessor by repealing the ordinance of 1895 and re-enacting the several provisions set forth in the original franchise.

Judge Grimm asks if a municipal corporation can, through its common council, under the circumstances stated, give away or surrender such rights without consideration, and he answers the question in the negative. If he is upheld in this, it also follows that other amendments, passed from time to time by the aldermen, and particularly the one which makes it obligatory on the part of the city to give the street car company ample notice and reasonable time for correcting any violations of the franchise provisions which any come to public notice, are also void. And if this is true there can be no more shilly-shallying or temporizing or dodging the issue. "The company will have to 'get right' in a minute, if the public temper so decrees it, or pass up its charter to do business on the streets of Janesville."

News From the Suburbs

EVANSVILLE

Evansville, Oct. 11.—One of the most enjoyable family gatherings to meet in Evansville in many a day was held Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Franklin were host and hostess and the occasion was the house-warming of their pretty new home on Lincoln street. More than forty relatives were present and each one took some part in a program which made the hours pass all too swiftly. Mrs. Eugene Butts gave an original poem written for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Franklin rendered piano and violin trios. Mrs. Park Ames sang, Clarence Franklin also rendered vocal solos, duets—The Courtier and Besse Franklin. Eugene Butts gave two Dutch dialect selections. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Franklin piano and violin duets. Then there were recitations by Gladys Courtier and Dorothy Butts followed by songs by Velma Franklin and Elva Denway and others. After the program a three-course dinner was served. The rooms were tastefully decorated throughout with autumn leaves and a profusion of fall-blooming flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin now have one of the most up-to-date and convenient dwellings in the city. It is a two-story frame building with cement foundation and every modern improvement enters into its construction. The interior is finished elegantly in oak. Miss Edith Denway of Chicago was one of the guests.

The funeral of Mrs. Annanda Rowley was held Sunday afternoon in the home of her daughter and was very largely attended. Rev. Ellen A. Copp of the Free Baptist church officiated. Mrs. Rowley was a lineal descendant of William Rowley, a divinity professor at Middlebury, England. His son, William, came to Massachusetts in 1836 and was elected a member of the general court of Massachusetts, the highest legislative tribunal of the colony at that time. The line of descent from that time to the present has been strictly Puritan. She was born in Chatham, N. Y., Oct. 22, 1831, and came to Magnolia, Wis., when a girl and for a time lived with a sister. In 1847 she was married to Alvin Louis Rowley, who died on the old farm at Magnolia, August 25, 1873. Mrs. Rowley had been a member of the Baptist church for many years and was a true Christian in every sense of the word. Two daughters, Mrs. Will Hatfield, Evansville, and Mrs. A. R. Rowley of North Dakota, survive her.

CUDAHY PACKING CO. IS FINED

Corporation Must Pay Nearly One Million for Violating Revenue Laws.

Leavenworth, Kan., Oct. 12.—The case against the Cudahy Packing Company for the violation of the internal revenue laws for failing to place stamps of proper denomination on packages of oleomargarine came to an end in the federal court here by a compromise when the packing company was fined $5,000 and agreed to pay a back stamp tax of $2,777.50 and special tax of $10,000 for agencies, making the total of $17,777.50 to be paid by the packing company to the government.

The Cudahy company was indicted by the federal grand jury in Topeka in April last on 935 counts. Samples of oleomargarine had been collected by the revenue department from every section of the United States. It was alleged that the packing company colored the oleomargarine, which should have subjected the company to a tax of ten cents a pound, and that it was disposed of as the uncolored product upon which the revenue is but a quarter of a cent a pound.

PROCLAMATION

We desire all our customers to know that we sell and recommend the famous, genuine ROUND OAK HEATING STOVE.

If there ever had been made an imitation of this stove that was better, we would probably handle it—and give the Round Oak the "key lift." But not there never has been a heating stove its equal.

It is an old timer and true—thirty-eight years on the market and yet it is strictly up-to-date. Handsome, well cut, beautifully, well and thoroughly made—never has it had to take a back seat, but has been always at the head of the procession in sales and popularity.

Call and see it. Ask us to make good all our claims for this good, true, original stove. Then see how easy we do it.

See the name on the leg—there are imitations.

KING OF PORTOLA CELEBRATION.
NICHOLAS COVARUBIA

San Francisco.—The Portola celebration, which is to be held in San Francisco in October in honor of Capt. Gaspar de Portola, who discovered San Francisco bay, and who became the first governor of California, promises to be the biggest affair of the kind ever held in the far west.

Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Japan have already accepted their intention of sending warships of their respective nations to San Francisco to participate in the festivities, which are being planned on such a scale that they bid fair to outrival the famous Mardi Gras celebration at New Orleans.

A carnival king has just been chosen and he will represent de Portola himself. The king will be Nicholas Covarubia of Santa Barbara, who has gained widespread fame in California as a carnival king. His darling feat of boyhoodship date back to the days when the Spanish still outnumbered the Americans in many sections of the Golden state.

When the People Know and Believe

—when a discriminating public is convinced that one store's facilities for serving it are better than those of another, it is but natural that the tide of traffic should turn in the direction of that ONE store. Rehberg's advantage over others in its line is so pronounced that the public can readily grasp its significance; in efficiency and thoroughness of organization, in purchasing power and volume of business transacted, Rehberg yields to no clothing store in Southern Wisconsin. Nowhere else in this city can the clothing of the Hirsch-Wickwire, the Sophomore, the Viking System be obtained. We not only supply the clever garments of these great makers EXCLUSIVELY, but in CONFINED patterns, at a price range of

$15 to $30

HOW THEY DO IT ABROAD
The suffragettes of England have attracted more attention by their methods to gain a hearing in parliament, and American women will be interested to know something about these methods, which possibly they may want to adopt.
Miss Konny, one of a trio who attempted to interview Mr. Asquith, the premier, and Mr. Herbert Gladstone, gives her experience, which is published in the "Remonstrance," the anti-suffragist paper of New England, published in Boston.
"Mr. Asquith and Mr. Gladstone were spending the weekend at Lympne castle, near Hythe. As they were leaving church after the Sunday morning service they were rushed at by three women, one of whom struck the premier repeatedly. Later the attack was renewed, when the two ministers entered a gold club house. The Times prints Mr. Asquith's account of the incident; but, as American suffragists are in the habit of charging that such occurrences are exaggerated by a hostile press, 'The Remonstrance' prefers to give the story as told by one of the suffragette trio, Miss Konny:
"We stationed ourselves near the entrance to the clubhouse on the golf course and waited until the golfers began to leave. Almost the last to go were Mr. Asquith and Mr. Gladstone and some other men. The place was almost deserted and everything was quiet. The sun was setting; it was the time when people were just beginning to think about dinner. The prime minister's party approached the clubhouse and we saw Mr. Asquith's motor car drive around to the entrance.
"Undetected we stood close to the clubhouse, and as the prime minister was descending the steps one of us sprang forward and caught hold of his arm. He turned and simply ran up the steps, and we ran after him. It was quite a chase, and as he reached the top step one of my companions caught him in the doorway. He tried to push her away, but she was too quick for him and caught hold of his collar. Then a real fight ensued. Mr. Asquith called Mr. Gladstone, who came rushing out.
"It was a real old fashioned. There they were, trying to push us out, and we were endeavoring to get in. Blows were struck and Mr. Gladstone fought like a pugilist. It got more serious; Mr. Gladstone lunged out and we lunged out, for we were determined not to be pushed down the steps by them.
"I don't think the prime minister received any bruises, but Miss Howells arm was scratched. We all came down the steps somehow, and by this time the women were out of breath. A man held us, and Mr. Asquith and Mr. Gladstone entered their car and drove away. Before they went I shouted out to Mr. Asquith: 'Worse will happen to you unless you stop heaping these indignities on women.'
"Even this was not all. That evening, at ten o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Asquith were sitting in the dining room with their guests, when two large stones were thrown through one of the windows, and several women who were outside ran away, leaving behind a bag containing a rope. This incident also is described by Miss

Konny as follows:
"We helped each other up, and we had a lot of slips and scrambles, falls and tumbles. At last we reached to within a short distance of two open windows, from which light streamed. We judged by the sounds of the table furniture that the party were at dinner, but I cannot say whether Mr. Gladstone was there. We did not listen to the talking, because we would do nothing dishonorable—we simply went about our work at once.
"One of us was hoisted up to a window and peeped through and saw them at dinner. She reported her observations, and, standing on the wall, we decided upon our plan of action. Up again we hoisted her, and, thrusting her head through the window, she cried: 'Mr. Asquith, we shall go on pestering you until you give women the vote.' And then the window was smashed with stones.
"How we got down off the wall and scrambled over the fences and through the ditches I don't know. We heard a commotion behind us in the castle, and a man's voice on the terrace cried out, 'There they go, down the steps.' We got quietly into our boat and looked behind us. The glare of lanterns, yellow, red, and green flashed about the castle grounds, and voices called. But they never thought of casting the light on the canal or looking for us there. And so we got away.
"This is evidently suffrage under high pressure but more or less contagious, for Chicago and New York have been favored with demonstrations more fantastic and equally fanatical. It is well for the country that this class of outbursts are largely in the minority.
GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION
The Gazette has been gathering data for the past two weeks from twenty different cities, in half a dozen states where the commission form of government has been adopted. The list of questions sent out appears in another column with the first batch of answers received in reply.
These will be followed with others, so that the taxpayers of Janesville may be informed of how the plan works in active operation and thus be prepared to vote intelligently when the question is submitted.
A number of the mayors sent special charters under which they are working, and the office is well equipped with late information which is open for inspection to all parties who may be interested.
It is gratifying to note that without exception the new form of government is approved, and that in many cases results are so satisfactory that the people are enthusiastic in its support. The letters speak for themselves, and they will be read with interest by every well-wisher for good government.
The Chicago press devoted much space to the wonders of the Rock River Methodist conference recently held in Rockford and had but little to say about any other features. Yet low journalism is not confined to the slums. The Methodist church was entitled to better treatment.
Read the series of letters which the Gazette commences to publish today on "City Government by Commission." They present a strong argument in favor of the plan and should convince the most skeptical. The business of all corporations is in the hands of a very few men. The principle is right and applies to public business with equal force.
Minister Crane may be retired to private life as the result of indiscretion. Our diplomatic relations with China and Japan do not warrant premature discussion on the part of the newly appointed minister, and this is what he is accused of, and why he was recalled from San Francisco when ready to sail.
Collector Loeb of the New York custom house is making things lively for smugglers, and within the next two weeks more than 200 inhabitants will be returned, involving all classes of people from steamship and government employees, to the "four hundred."
Dr. Cook is making hay while the sun shines. While Henry may have discovered the art of capturing the dollars, while the audience seems content to wait for proof.
Col. Steward, the new chief of police of Chicago, has commenced to clean up the city and if successful the white-light district will soon be a thing of the past.
The new state board of control in Illinois is attempting to abolish politics from the state institutions. A good thing to do.
PRESS COMMENT.
The Milwaukee Free Press makes the suggestion to ambitious authors that the rescue of two university students from the angry waters of Lake Mendota by two Madison girls ought to furnish material for a good romantic novel.
Sounds Good.
Madison Journal: Not all of us can go to the pole or enjoy flights in airships, but all can get the thrill of adventure and uncertainty by joining the Mushroom club.
Very Quick Work.
The Rockford Republic learns that twelve hours after his marriage a Bachelor of Arts committed suicide. That's rather early for a fellow to be undecieved.

Find Democrats First.
Milwaukee Journal: The Baltimore Sun is calling for a national Democratic conference and says "the way for the democratic party to get together is to get together." There is the Charlotte (N. C.) Observer, for example, out for ship subsidy. Would

The Sun get together with The Observer?
Should Do It Here.
The Detroit Free Press says: In Evanston they have had to trim the shade trees high up to allow the bellows to pass along the streets with the modern millinery.
Willie Runs Well.
The Detroit News remarks that it is a cold day when William Randolph Hearst, best running for office. It may be a cold day, too, if he ever "gets there."
Others As Well.
The Rockford Register-Gazette forgets that many politicians suffer the same fate as the French general who talked too much and has been placed on the suspended list. Not all people are gifted with the ability to keep their own counsel.
Another Fake.
The Milwaukee Sentinel has discovered that socialists are charged with having sent a bomb through the mails in Sweden. Like most other charges this probably also will eventually be turned into good advertising.
More Water.
The Chicago Tribune decides that all Cincinnati needs, according to the Enquirer, is a nine foot stage of water in the Ohio river. Having kept tab on the Ohio river for a number of years, we can promise the Enquirer that the nine foot stage will be along next February—or not later, in any event, than June.
Heart to Heart Talks.
By EDWIN A. NYE.
THE TEACHER KNOWS.
What is religion—real religion? Here is a picture of it:
He was the worst boy in school; she was the teacher. She was angered by his stubbornness; he was defiant. She took him to the hall for punishment. Angry she administered the penalty, and—
Then somehow a great wave of pity for her swept over her.
She looked at the worn coat of the little fellow; she thought of the frail body deprived of nourishing food; she thought of the hard and loveless home and of the starved soul of the poor child. Tears sprang to the teacher's eyes as the boy waited for further punishment. Then he saw the tears. His own eyes grew moist and overclouded.
Thinking of how the poor child had no chance, in an impulse of love she put her arms around the boy, and they cried together.
That's religion.
She and the boy both found it.
The theologians who write creeds will make you big definitions about it, because they are trying to be logical about a matter purely of the heart.
Who cares what dry doctors of divinity, who try to reduce religion to a system, say about it?
We are all of us like the bad boy at school. "We all, like sheep, have gone astray."
And it is frequently necessary that the Teacher should take us out into the hall for correction. And the more punishment we get the more defiant we become, which is quite natural.
We cannot see that the Teacher's eyes are full of tears.
We cannot see that it hurts the Teacher more than us; that he is infinitely sorry for our poor orphanage, our frail flesh and our starved hearts.
But when we do see!
Then we are no longer defiant. If the Teacher really cares, why, we care. And then the arms of a great love are about us.
That is all there is to it. It is not a thing of formulas or rituals.
Religion is the unseen mystery that changes up from bad pupils to good ones.
To be sure, the lessons are hard sometimes. We can scarce see the lines in the book because of our tears.
But—
Suppose the Teacher should give us the key to the hard sums and solve our problems for us. What would be the use of the school?
It is better to try and trust the Teacher who knows.
Advertising, once looked upon by some business men as an expense, is now quite generally regarded in its proper light—as an investment.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)
Come, let us strain both brain and brawn, to pile up mighty heaps of plunder; O let us toil and grind, and moil, and let amusement go to thunder! In divers climes we'll huddle the dimes, by methods white, or methods yellow; we'll keep up steam, and plan and scheme, and sometimes soak the other fellow. We have no time for song or rhyme, or plays or other things diverting; the eager lust for dough and dust is gripping us until it's burning. We have no heart for works of art, for statues sculpted by grand old masters; our green back dreams and get there schemes stick tighter than adhesive plaster. We can't afford to leave our board for half a day, to go a-dishing; to grab the plank and kindred junk—that is the burden of our wishing. And thus we strive while we're alive, and jog upon our joyless journey; and when we croak—this is the job—our wind is swiped by some attorney!

A dispatch from Budapest announces that a Hungarian archaeologist, M. Duda, in certain excavations which he was superintending near Zello, in Transylvania, has discovered the site of the ancient Roman city of Porolissum, and is enabled to reconstruct the town. The houses have resisted the ravages of time, being substantially built of brick and adjoining one another. The rooms are very small, but regular in form. M. Duda has also come upon the ancient theater, of great dimensions, which should give some idea of the size of the town. The archaeologist considers that Porolissum had a population of 20,000.

THE NEW WAY.
The above Fire Construction there are Four Surfaces Radiating Heat.
The above Fire Construction there are Nine Surfaces Radiating Heat, increasing the Heating Capacity with the same amount of fuel.
Above cut illustrates the arrangement of Bottom Flues in nearly all base burners, showing the Heat is not Equally Distributed.
The above Bottom Flue Construction causes the Heat to go to the Outer Surfaces, Largely increasing the Heating Capacity and Economizing in Fuel.
The "Favorite" Base Burner has More Heating Capacity and is the Most Economical Stove ever made. Why? Because it has about 1/4 more Radiating Surface as compared with same sizes of other base burners, and is Mounted and Fitted Perfectly.

Not Boasting

Do not get the idea from my advertising that I am boastful. I am not vain of my work, I am merely enthusiastic over the success that one or two methods of mine meet with.

For instance, my painless method of extracting teeth is to my knowledge the best method known, and it gives me pleasure to show people how I save them pain.

MINERAL POINT BANK CLOSED BY FEDERAL ORDERS

Janesville Men Interested in Failure of First National Bank of Western City.

Dispatches from Washington this afternoon announce that the discovery of alleged forgeries and defalcations amounting, according to unofficial advice, approximately $210,000 resulted today in the closing of the First National Bank of Mineral Point. John W. Schofield has been appointed receiver. Mr. Schofield is from the office of the Comptroller of currency at Washington.

It is learned that the troubles of the bank were first discovered when the bank examiner made his examination recently and as a result it is alleged that Vice President Phil Allen, Jr., who has been connected with the bank for many years, confessed to a shortage. Mr. Allen, it is said, is at his home and reported dying from a chronic disease. It is said that arrests will follow when a fuller examination is made.

Calvert Spaulley, former state senator and a leading businessman of Mineral Point, is President of the bank, which was considered one of the strongest in southern Wisconsin. Last Friday an attempt was made to make good the shortage to avoid a run on the bank and all claims were paid promptly. It is said that a large sum of money was secured and a large box, under guard with rifles, was brought from Chicago by the afternoon train and waited in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul station until the train for the west started at seven o'clock. It is reported that this sum was $210,000. Evidently it was not sufficient and the Comptroller of the currency today ordered the bank closed.

Frank Hanck and James Harris, officers in the Black Mining Co., went to Mineral Point this morning as agents of the funds of their company was on deposit in the bank. It is said the money was lost by unwise speculation by Mr. Allen.

Edward Locke—Author of "The Climax."

New York.—Another Pittsburgh man of whom the world is to hear more is Edward Locke, who has achieved success through the production of a play from his pen, "The Climax." The play has met with unqualified favorable comment. It is his first serious attempt as a playwright, though he has written several vaudeville sketches.

Locke is just 40 years old. His early boyhood was spent in his father's glass factory, first in Boston and later in Pittsburgh. He earned little for the glass business and in early years left it and joined the editorial staff of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Some years ago he came to New York and entered a stage career in minor roles. He later appeared as the Walking Delegate in "The Music Master." He has now given up the stage for the pen and is here achieving his greatest success.

Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, who may become head of Department of Mines.

Goldfield, Nev.—The mining districts of the west have been sending urging upon the president the necessity of establishing a federal department of mines. At the American Mining Congress just closed a resolution for such a department was presented by Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada and this will be formally presented to the president at San Francisco.

Should the new department be created Senator Newlands becomes the logical candidate for its head.

could he be prevailed upon to accept this. He is popular with the mining interests of the west and his constant efforts at Washington for the western interests and especially for the mines have stamped him as a capable leader. He has lived in the west for 20 years.

Senator Newlands has attracted national attention as an active advocate of bimetalism. He has worked steadily for irrigation developments and other matters of western interest. For the ten years from 1893 to 1903 he was a member of congress and there framed the Newlands reclamation act. He was made senator six years ago.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

O H, NO, I don't like riding on the trolley at all. I would have liked to go on the train much better. But I went that way because it was so much cheaper. A girl answered me the other day when I asked her if she enjoyed a long trolley trip she had just taken.

It came like a sudden bracing breeze on a sultry day.

I had expected her to say like most people who go anywhere on the trolley instead of the train to save money: "Yes, I like to travel that way. It's so nice to be out in the open air." or "Yes, I like the trolley very much. It's much more healthy than the train, you know." or "One sees so many bits of the country from the trolley that one misses by the train that I enjoy it immensely." "Yes, I think the trolley is delightful. The train is so stuffy that it makes me sick, you know," or someone of the innumerable similar translations of the truth, "because it's cheaper."

I wonder if there is anything in the words "I can't afford it," or "because it's cheaper," or "because it costs too much," or "because I haven't the money" that makes them difficult for the average throat to utter.

For I know very few people who ever seem able to say them.

I went the first two weeks of September in a beautiful summer hotel. I spent there in September instead of in August simply and solely because the prices at the height of the season were more than I could possibly afford.

The majority of the people at the hotel I had reason to know had come at that time of the year for exactly the same reason that I had. But I think most of them would have died rather than admit it.

"I always come in September. I think it's much the nicest time of the year to be here," was the favorite explanation. Of course there were others. "One lady was here once in August, and the large crowd was so disagreeable to me that I always come in September now." Another always comes after the crowd has gone "because I find the table and the service are so much better then."

Most of the newly married women I know whose husbands are just starting out in business and who do not know a maid, do their own work because "I don't like to have some careless outsider handling my wedding things." Only one says, "John's salary isn't big enough yet."

Of the funny old people in the funny old town of Cranford, Mrs. Quiskil once wrote:

"We had tacitly agreed to ignore that any with whom we associated on terms of visiting equality could ever be prevented by poverty from doing anything that they wished. If we walked to and from a party it was because the night was so fine, or the air so refreshing, not because sedan chairs were expensive; if we wore prints instead of summer silks it was because we preferred a washing material, and so on till we blinded ourselves to the vulgar fact that we were, all of us, people of very moderate means."

Today we laugh at the funny old ladies, but aren't some of us quite as funny as they?

To go back to the immortal Bobbie Burns—but you know what I'm going to say so I'll let you quote it for yourself.

Ruth Cameron

IN THE BOUDOIR

Never sit with shoulders drooping, discovered. The worker of miracles is in your own mind, and if you make up your own mind to do a thing and then do it the greatest of all miracles will happen—the miracle of a strong body, good lungs and a fine, graceful figure. One teacher taught her scholars to sit and stand as if they were looking over a board fence that came just below the eyes.

The matter of soap—Have you ever thought why men as a rule have clearer skins than women? They pay a good price for the best soap procurable for shaving and use it freely. The pores of the skin are softened by the use of hot water, and cleansed by a thick lathering and rubbing with a soft elastic brush. A hint to the old folks heap the next time there is no way of working a miracle with a broomstick that anyone has or foolish that does not?

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Oct. 12, 1869.—Severe Accident.—Last evening about half past 8 o'clock, as the stock train on the Milwaukee & St. Paul road was leaving Milton Junction, a man by the name of Charles Lee, from Dane County, fell under the wheels and had his left foot and ankle terribly crushed. It was found necessary to amputate the leg below the knee, which operation was successfully performed. Mr. Lee is a drover, and at the time of the accident was on his way to Chicago with some stock. The employees of the road were in no manner responsible for the accident.

LEGGS OF WOMAN IN SUIT CASE

Gruesome Find Believed to Be Important Clue in Murder Case.

Tipton, R. I., Oct. 12.—The finding of the severed legs of a woman in a dress suit case among some bushes lying in an outlying section of this town brought to light what the authorities are convinced is a case of murder. The discovery of a New Bedford newspaper of recent date with the portions of the limbs is regarded as the most important clue thus far obtained, indicating possibly the place of the murder, if murder there was. The authorities are of the opinion that the woman was murdered in New Bedford, that the legs were placed in the suit case there and brought by team or automobile to Tipton.

Ohio Federation of Labor, Toledo, O., Oct. 12.—The largest convention ever held by the Ohio Federation of Labor opened here today with nearly 400 delegates present when President Llewellyn Lewis of Martins Ferry tapped for order. Matters of special importance, that are to be considered by the federation are employer's liability, initiative and referendum, amendments to the compulsory education law, women's eight hour bill and the new plumbers' license bill.

Franchises will also be asked in Winona and Sparta. The new road is to cost $3,000,000. The franchise will call for the completion of the road in the fall of 1910.

SHORTAGE OF $210,000 DISCOVERED IN BANK

Alleged Forgeries of Notes Said to Be the Cause — No Arrests.

Milwaukee, Oct. 12.—A Mineral Point special says: A shortage, due to alleged forgeries, has been discovered in the First National bank there. The bank officials spent until midnight trying to arrange affairs so that the bank would be able to continue in business and the effort probably will be successful. The shortage was hidden by the placing of forged notes of local business men in the bank's vaults. No arrests have been made on account of the shortage.

The capital of the First National bank of Mineral Point is $100,000 and the deposits as recorded last spring were $229,000. The surplus is $29,000.

ILLINOIS BANKERS IN SESSION

Interesting Program Arranged for Opening Meeting of the Association.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 12.—It was hard to walk on a Decatur street today without bumping into a banker, for hundreds of them, from all over the state, are here in attendance on the convention of the Illinois Bankers' association. The first session was called to order in the morning by President James McKinley of Alledo in the Powers Grand Opera house, and after an invocation by Rev. Mr. Penhaligon, an address of welcome was delivered by Judge William C. Johns. F. T. Joyner of East St. Louis responded and the members next listened to the annual address of the president. The other speakers of the day were Logan C. Murray of Louisville and Fred I. Kent of New York.

This afternoon the bankers were taken for a long automobile ride, the ladies meanwhile being entertained at the residence of Mrs. O. B. Gorin. This evening all will attend the theater.

For to-morrow, the last day of the convention, the speakers are George T. Buckingham of Chicago, Lewis E. Pearson of New York and Col. Fred E. Farnsworth, secretary of the American Bankers' association. After adjournment the visitors will be the guests of the Country club.

The finance committee's report on the municipal court accounting, and the treasurer's report for September were favorably passed upon. The board of education had better orders amounting to $1,141.51 during the month of September. According to Supt. W. E. Dulin, the stone crusher turned out 1,002 1/2 yards of stone during the two weeks ending Oct. 9.
Chief Appleby's resume of the month showed that there had been 39 arrests; that 35 of the prisoners had been taken to court and 51 discharged. The offenses were listed as follows: Insanity 1, larceny 2, forgery 1, inebriation 1, disorderly conduct 1, vagrancy 2, carrying concealed weapons 1, and drunkenness 3.
The arrests were credited to the various officers: Appleby 4, Brown 15, Flanning 15, Champion 8, Mason 15,
Morrissey 18, Sam Brown 25, Henke 4, Dulton 6.

Water Co. Called to Work.
Ald. Sheridan introduced an order calling on the city marshal to compel all persons who receive food and lodging at the city lock-up and who are not, at the time, under arrest, to work on the streets from 7 a. m. to 10 a. m. each following morning. Ald.
Brown wanted to know who was expected to enforce this measure. Ald.
Sheridan retorted that it was clearly set forth in the order. Ald. Dulin thought it was a good plan as the lock-up had become a regular lodging house and some way of breaking up the gang of undesirables ought to be found. The order was passed by unanimous vote.

Miscellaneous Orders.
The building committee was directed to buy lumber to repair the Monterey bridge and permit the city engineer, Ald. Brown, to extend the order. Ald. Brown disallowed the order, saying that the city controller directed the street commissioner to appoint a man to superintend the laying of the Ravine street storm sewer and devote his time to other street and called upon the C. M. & S. P.
Ry. Co. to replank between the tracks on Fourth avenue at once. The sewer committee was directed to ascertain what compensation will satisfy the owners of the private sewer on Torrance, Racine, and Madison streets and Mineral Point avenue, now being used by the city as a storm sewer,
and report at the next meeting.

Time's Changes.
Mildmay is a philosopher. In his way. The other evening Mrs. M. gave him a scolding that would have made almost any other man crazy. But Mildmay said never a word in reply.
He only murmured to himself: "And that is the woman I used to hold on my knee, and call my little poetry baby!"

COMMISSION RULE VERY SUCCESSFUL

low commissioners, unless something of the ordinary arises. There has been less friction, more satisfaction, greater progress in the last three years than during the preceding three years of our city's existence.

1st.—Our city adopted the commission form of government May 24, 1909.

2nd.—We have hardly been running long enough to give a definite answer to second question, but we save approximately $2,000 in salaries, etc., and a great saving is made in executive ability.

3rd.—The improvements, with regard to street and city property, show a very decided gain over conditions as they existed under the old form of government.

4th.—The people are well pleased with the present form of government, and I don't believe that 5 per cent
would vote the return to the old way.

5th.—The law and order of the community are much better preserved, and the police department is better handled under this form of government. The city has entirely closed violations of the Sunday law;
no saloon or public place dare open because the police department knows that their head will fall unless the laws are strictly enforced, and they are answerable directly to the commission and not to the political influence of the other side.

6th.—We are handling public utilities to much better advantage in every way. We have improved and sys-tematized our water system and are rapidly getting it on a business and paying basis. Heretofore it had been running considerably behind.

We desire to say that the commission form of government, composed of a chairman and two commissioners, No. 1 and No. 2, in my humble opinion is far better in every respect than the old form in every respect.
I lived with a mayor and nine councilmembers. Our two commissioners are businessmen of the highest integrity of the city, and we meet and conduct the business of the city in an orderly, quiet, businesslike manner, meeting every proposition just exactly as it would be met by the managers of business houses in the business world.
Under the old system there was a flow of oratory, unnecessary wandering and grandstand plays to the gallery, all of which made it exceedingly hard to get a definite course of action.

The argument might be made against the commission, that it was an arbitrary form of government, but it is not true. It is only a reduction of the representative body in numbers; the people elect the chairman of the commission and the two commissioners, but this is done on alternate years so that the men of experience are constantly on the commission. In our charter we have the reference to the council giving the order and the citizen ample power over his protection and, all in all, there is no comparison in the two forms of city government; the commission form of government is more efficient in every branch and department of city government.

Yours truly,

Chairman of the Commission.
City of Cedar Rapids.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa,
Oct. 4th, 1909.

Gazette.
Managing Editor Janesville Gazette,
Janesville, Wis.
My Dear Sir:—Your letter of September 30th, addressed to the mayor of Cedar Rapids, has been referred to me for reply and I answer your questions as follows:

1.—The commission form of government was adopted at a special election in Cedar Rapids in December, 1907, and the city went under its provisions April 1st, 1908.

2.—A saving has been made to the taxpayer of Cedar Rapids in two ways, one by a reduction of the tax levy last year from the former rate of 41.60 mills to a levy of 40.60 mills and by a further reduction of the levy in 1909 from 40.60 to 40.20 mills.
A further reduction would have been made in 1909 but for the fact that the city purchased last year an additional six acres, lying in the Cedar river, in the heart of the city, for city hall and other public building purposes, and a tax of 2.10 mills was levied to provide a fund for the filling in and improvement of this land.
But for this extra expenditure, which will come during 1910, the tax

Druggist J. P. Baker submits the following to the readers of the Gazette:
For several years we have announced, with our recommendation, that we have found a positive cure for eczema; a simple skin wash, oil of wintergreen compounded with other healing ingredients.

Yet we know there are people right in this town who have eczema, and still have never tried this remedy.
We have, therefore, arranged with the D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special offer of a trial bottle at 25 cents instead of the $1.00 bottle as regularly sold.

We offer this trial bottle with our recommendation and assurance that just as soon as the patient washes his itching skin, this mild liquid will take the itch away instantly.

Capt. Brown smiled the smile of a man who commands a 25-knot boat, and proceeded to deliver the message in a more concise form. Logothetti heard every word, and the answer was that he was in no hurry and was quite at Mr. Van Torp's disposal. He would be glad to know when the latter had on board with him.

"Lady, Madam Leven, Miss Margaret Donne, Mrs. Rushmore and Count Kralinsky," answered Capt. Brown, prompted by Van Torp.

The latter was watching the Greek through a pair of delectable glasses and saw distinctly the expression of surprise that came into his face when he heard the last of the names.

"Tell the gentleman," said Van Torp, "that if he'll bring his party with him when we stop, I'll be very glad to have them all take lunch with me."

Capt. Brown delivered the message. At such a short distance he did not even have to raise his voice to be heard through the six-foot megaphone.

To Van Torp's surprise, Logothetti nodded with alacrity, and the answer came that he would bring his party with pleasure, but thought that his visit would be over long before lunch.

"All right, good-by," said Van Torp, as if he were at the telephone. "Lift off, captain. That's all. Just let him give us a lead now and we'll follow him through this creek again, since you say you can't stop here."

As he went off the bridge to return to his breakfast he turned close to the chief mate, who had turned again, thought it was his watch below.

"I say, Mr. Johnson," he asked, "have we got a barber shop on board this ship?"

"No, sir," answered the mate, who knew better than to be surprised at anything.

"It's no matter," said Mr. Van Torp, "I was only asking."

He went back to his breakfast with an improved appetite. When he re-entered the saloon Lady Maud was still leaning back in her chair, staring at his empty place.

"Well," he said, "they're both coming on board as soon as we get to a place where we can stop."

"Have you really seen the girl?" Lady Maud sat up, as if she were waking from sleep.

"Oh, yes! There she was, looking over the rail, as neat as a pin in a blue serge dress, with a white veil tied over her hair, watching me. We've got 'em right enough, and that's going to be the end of this mystery!"

"Did you see any one else on the yacht?"

"Least, that's all. He and I talked. At least, our captain talked for us. They do know how to tell, those men! If the girls' party, Logothetti beat the band for brass, that's all I can say!"

"It is rather cool," said Lady Maud thoughtfully. "If he alone with her, it will be all up with his engagement."

They talked a few minutes longer, agreeing that she should tell Margaret what was going to happen; and that Mrs. Rushmore and Kralinsky should be kept in ignorance of the plan, the American lady because she might possibly yield to temptation and tell the count, and the latter for obvious reasons. It was not likely that any of them would be on deck much before Logothetti came on board.

"There's good anchorage out of the tidal current at Sealets, some few miles below Ilexton, on the Sicilian side, and towards this well-known water the Erlina led the way, followed by the Erlina."

At a distance, Logothetti had supposed that he could somehow account to the diva for the position in which he had foolishly placed himself, but because he had done nothing and said nothing that he would have been ashamed of before her, he feared the whole truth; and he fancied that even if they quarreled she would make up with him before long, and marry him in the end. He had a good opinion of himself as a desirable husband; and with reason, since he had been persecuted for years with offers of excellent marriages from mothers of high degree who had daughters to dispose of. And beneath that conviction there lurked, in spite of him, the less worthy thought, that singers and actresses were generally less squeamish than women of the world about the little entanglements of their intended husbands.

But now, at the very moment of meeting Margaret, he knew that if he found her very angry with him, he would simply listen to what she said, make a humble apology, state the truth coldly, and return to his own yacht with Baraka, under her very eyes, and in full sight of Lady Maud and Mrs. Rushmore. Besides, he felt tolerably sure that when Spira failed to carry out the young Tartar girl's murderous instructions, she would forget all about the oath she had sworn by the "inviolable water of the Styx" and try to kill him with her own hands, so that it would be necessary to take her away abruptly, and even forcibly.

Before the Erlina had his napkins laid, Logothetti had his appetite launch pulling alongside, and he got into it with Baraka and Spira, and the Lancashire Lass had barely time to lower her ladder, while still moving slowly, before the visitors were there.

Baraka bade Logothetti go up first, and tried to climb the ladder, but as she followed him. The chief mate and chief steward were waiting at the gangway. The mate—saluted; the steward led the visitors to the main saloon, ushered them in and shut the door. Spira was left outside, of course.

MILLIONS OF LIVES LOST

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption, Many Unnecessary Deaths from this Disease.

If people could only understand that systematic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which when neglected, paves the way for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured, if the right treatment is employed.

Catarrh is caused by a general diseased state of the system which leads commonly to annoying and perhaps serious local conditions, which may prove a fertile breeding ground for germs of consumption. External remedies give but temporary ease.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Mucic-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid for the medicine in every case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Mucic-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation or risk when you try Rexall Mucic-Tone on our guarantee. We have Rexall Mucic-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often the taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make a marked impression upon the case. Of course in chronic cases a longer treatment is necessary. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Mucic-Tone in Jamesville only at Rexall's. The Rexall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

CAUSTIC COMMENT ON "PANAMA LIBEL"

FEDERAL JUDGE IN PANAMA LIBEL CASE SAYS IT'S "POLITICS."

HAS FORMED NO OPINION

Doubts That It Can Be Shown That Defendants Maliciously Libeled Roosevelt, Taft and Others—Hearing Begun at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—At the close of argument in the hearing of Charles H. Williams and Delavan Smith, proprietors of the Indianapolis News, who the government is seeking to remove to Washington, to stand trial on the charge of criminal libel, Judge A. B. Anderson of the United States court of this district said that the so-called "Panama libel" was more or less a "political matter."

Formed No Opinion.

The court said that it wished not to give an impression that it had formed an opinion in the merits of the case, but that it wished to point out the trend of the argument towards its further enlightenment as to whether or not this was probably cause for indictment of Messrs. Williams and Smith by the federal grand jury of the District of Columbia for criminal libel in their having published articles imputing that there was a "grat" of $23,000,000 in the sale of the Panama canal zone to the United States by the French company.

"What is the guilty intent" to be shown on the part of these defendants," the court asked Stuart McCune, special attorney for the department of justice in charge of the proceedings. The judge went on to explain that he was in doubt that it could be shown that the defendants had maliciously thought to libel former President Roosevelt, President Taft, Charles P. Taft, William Nelson Cromwell, J. Pierpont Morgan, Douglas Robinson and others.

Canal Political Project.

"The whole Panama canal project is a great political project," said the court, "and there has been, and is, much honest expression of opinion as to the advisability of having chosen the Panama route in preference to the Nicaragua route, and now, so much cost of building the canal is so much larger than at first estimated, as to whether or not the United States should own any Atlantic-Pacific canal."

The press has a public duty to perform, and in political discussions it seems to me that the conception of libel should be greatly different from the conception that should apply to a case of libel on a person's private character. I am not seeking to prejudice the case at this time; I am only seeking for light on the question here as to whether criminal libel may be possible in this matter. Criminal libel is a crime against society."

Charges Are Refuted.

Mr. McCune charged a large part of his argument to attempting to establish the fact of criminal libel on the part of the defendants. He said the records at Washington absolutely refuted charges of corruption in the Panama purchase, that the defendants had not considered their records in publishing the charges complained of, and that whatever was the intention in their minds, the act they committed amounted to criminal libel.

MORSE'S SENTENCE AFFIRMED

Appellate Court Decides Former Banker Morse Must Go to Prison.

New York, Oct. 12.—Unless the supreme court of the United States reverses the decision of the president of the United States Interiors, Charles W. Morse, one-time "book-keeper" coastwise steamship line organizer, banker and capitalist, will serve 10 years at hard labor in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. After having been at liberty under $125,000 bail since June 17 last, he is back in the Tombs prison, where he complies the decision rendered by the United States circuit court of appeals sustaining the judgment of the lower federal court, which found him guilty in November last, of violating the national banking laws.

There was solace in the decision of the court of appeals to-day, however, in that only ten of the 53 indictments on which he was convicted were sustained, and on the strength of this, his counsel, Martin W. Littleton, will immediately carry the case before the United States supreme court on a writ of certiorari. To this end, the United States circuit court of appeals has granted a 40-days' stay of execution and pending a decision by the supreme court application will be made to have the prisoner again admitted to bail.

Champion Johnson Floored.

San Francisco, Oct. 12.—"Gunboat" Smith, a seaman from one of the United States cruisers anchored in the harbor, scored a knockout in a four-round bout last night with Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight. Coming out of a clinic in the last round the sailor swung a right overhand chop which took Johnson flush on the chin. The champion went down flat on his back.

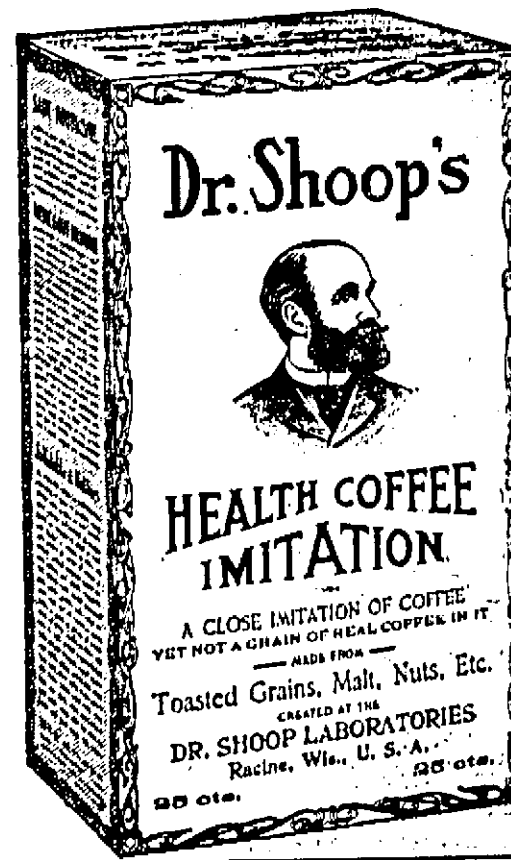

Frost Closes Navigation.

Fairbanks, Alaska, Oct. 12.—Navigation of the Tanana river was closed by the freezing of the stream. The unexpected freeze caught a number of steamers in the river and will hold them prisoner until spring, when two of them will be in a dangerous position at the breaking up of the ice.

Talks on Snake Culture

No. 26—The Long Vacation

The hero of this matter of six years in captivity is going to spend six years in retirement at the state penitentiary of California, and all mail should be addressed in care of the warden. He is a man of ability and attainments, and while still young, distinguished himself as a civil engineer. He also distinguished himself as a consumer of booze. Things came to such a pass with him, eventually, that all the engineering he did was to get another drink, and he finally became a general nuisance in his own town. The citizens took him to trying to get him out of the town, but he was naturally a good fellow, of first-class talents, but he was impervious to his wet suits, and he was impervious to admonition or entreaty. One day, having omitted a squadron of bottles, and being in a festive mood, he decided to enjoy a buggy ride, and helped himself to the first car that he saw standing in the street. He enjoyed himself driving around the village, noting the substantial improvements, and at the end of two hours, was overtaken by a policeman, who embraced him and carried him off to jail. He was charged with horse stealing, and sentenced to six years at hard labor. It's pretty near punishment, you say, gentle reader; but when a man makes a public nuisance of himself, he must take whatever is handed to him.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is so horrible to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

MAKERS CHICAGO

Advertising is Business Insurance.

Once upon a time, and this is no fairy tale—after more than half a century of experience, it was possible to get by advertising. A traveler came along who saw the possibilities and said: "Let there be my opportunity," and in a short time he annexed the world. You may not see any moral in this, but the cold fact remains: The advertiser got the business.

There are no men who are not susceptible to an advertisement which catches their eye and holds their attention.

Use small neat ads to tell about your bargain. Instead of regaling your ability to use big ads, console yourself with the thought that a big ad may be too big to be read.
